VOLUME LXXXII. PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1867. NUMBER 291.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THE Manufacturers' National Convention, which will commence its session to-morrow, at Cleveland, promises to be a large and important convocation. Probably the representation from this city will be less than from any other town of considerable manufacturing business.

THE Scranton Republican and the Reading Dispatch are discussing the point whether Gen. Geary's prominent identification with the Temperance movement will make or mar his prospect for renomination to the Governorship. Better wait a year yet, good friends! before bringing the Governorship under discussion at all.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

—Mrs. Hannah Roone and her four children, the eldest aged thirteen, were found in their room, at No. 29 Amity street, New York, on Sunday, suffering from the effects of laudanum, which had been administered by Mrs. Roone herself on account of her distressing poverty. They were taken to the Bellvue Hospital, and the physicians despaired of saving their lives.

—Gov. Humphreys, of Mississippi, has received such information relative to the projected outbreak among the negroes in January, that he has deemed it necessary to issue a proclamation warning all combinations for such a purpose that their intentions are known, and they cannot succeed; and if the black race believes the lands will be distributed among them they are greatly deceived.

—Severe distress among the whites and negroes of the South, especially the latter, is anticipated during the winter. The freedmen are being discharged in large numbers by their employers, on account of a scarcity of food and means, and starvation, in many instances, is actually at the doors of both whites and blacks.

—Walker Edmunds, a young merchant, while riding on Pigeon Roost road, near Memphis, on Saturday evening, was met by two negroes, with muskets; one leveled a musket and without a word fired, shooting Edmunds in the forehead, inflicting a fatal wound. No arrests. It is supposed they mistook him for another, as no attempt was made to rob him.

—Hurtzman & Son's piano factory, on Staats street, Buffalo, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, with a large number of pianos and material. Loss in stock $22,000; insured for $10,000. The building was owned by P. Staats, and was valued at $12,000; insured for $3,000. Forty-five workmen were thrown out of employment.

—There is little doubt but that the Senate will restore Mr. Stanton to the position of Secretary of War, but it is understood that Mr. Stanton asks only a vindication of the law, and does not desire to resume the office.

—Secretary Seward will soon furnish additional Alabama claim correspondence, and take no further steps in the matter until he has an expression from Congress on the subject.

—The friends of the administration are urging the removal of General Pope and substituting Meade, owing to the former's removal of Judicial officers.

—An unknown man was found murdered on Sunday, near Higgin's plantation, twelve miles below Memphis. He is supposed to have been a flat boat man.

—A. L. Dunnell's wrapping paper mill, between South Orange and Milbury, Delaware, was destroyed by fire on Friday night of last week. Loss, $50,000.

—Rev. Dr. Chester Dewey, professor of chemistry in the University of Rochester, N. Y., died on Sunday night, at Rochester, aged eighty-four years.

—One ton of Quartz, from the Vermillion gold fields, just smelted, yields eight pounds bullion. The miners are greatly encouraged.

—A fire at St. Paul, Minn., yesterday morning, burned five small wooden dwellings on Rosaville street—loss $5,000.

—It is expected that the Senate will pass the bill to repeal the tax on raw cotton with but five or six dissenting votes.

—The reported resignation of Mr. Theaker, Commissioner of Patents, has not yet reached the President.

—The Hudson river is completely blocked with ice.

—The excitement in Chicago over the spirit of the jail which has been mentioned by us before, must be of an unusual intensity. The Tribune gives nearly a column of local to it and asserts that hundreds of applicants for permission to spend the night there are nightly turned away, some men have even gone so far as to commit petty crimes in order to be allowed to participate in the general horror. We give a few selections from the Tribune's account of how Thursday night passed:

Inside were collected not less than fifty persons, among whom were several public officers, four or five members of the Board of Supervisors, and a number of prominent citizens. Besides these there were three trance speaking women. These were all collected inside at nine o'clock, and waited patiently for the recurrence of the mysterious sounds.

At precisely a quarter to ten o'clock was heard a wail so pitiful and full of agony, that every one hearing it started to their feet, while the prisoners in the different cells ceased their laughter and conversation, and listened. The sound seemed to arise from the western end, proceed as far as the middle corridor, where it reached its greatest height. Then it dies gradually away.

In the middle corridor a number of gentlemen stood and waited while they heard the mysterious sounds again and again repeated. Those shut within the office clung to the iron bars, and placing their ears against them, listened in silence. The sound was heard at irregular intervals until after midnight, when the crowd dispersed.

There is little to be written regarding the sound which is nightly heard within the county jail. That the sound is heard as stated, hundreds of our citizens who have listened to it can attest; but what its origin is, whether the result of accident or design on the part of some exceedingly clever practical joker, the most of those who have heard it will, like ourselves, be puzzled to decide. There is no one who deems it possible to proceed from the throat of a ventriloquist; neither is it caused by the winds, nor by the steam in the heating pipes.

Believers in the infallibility of trance-speakers will endeavor to hold their souls in patience until Monday, when they are promised an explanation. But all will agree that, ghost, spirit, bird or devil, it is now very mysterious.

Besides these, the sworn statments of two men, watchmen employed in the fire alarm telegraph department, are given, in which both assert that they have been troubled by moans and groans, and by a man who looks in at them in their terror and walks in the jail yard and who always disappears when they go for him, ever since the third of last July. They have kept silence heretofore for fear of being ridiculed, and perhaps losing their places. The spiritualists are enraptured and proclaim that this is only the beginning of a manifestation which will shake Chicago from end to end, and one trance medium declares that more light will be thrown on the subject on Monday evening.

Chicago is noted for sensations of the biggest kind, but this one out Chicagos Chicago.

The latest information states that the ghost excitement has subsided, it having been discovered that the dismal noises were produced by a waggish prisoner, through the instrumentality of a broken steam-pipe.

By Mr. DODGE: To amend the act of August 3d, 1861, for the better organization of the military establishment.

All were appropriately referred.

THE PRESIDENT AND RECONSTRUCTION.

Mr. BENJAMIN offered a resolution, reciting that the President in his last annual message had seen fit, in utter disregard of the popular will, as expressed in the election of members of the Fortieth Congress, to recommend the repeal of the reconstruction laws, the effect of which would be to remit the government of the late rebellious States to rebel hands, and abandon the entire loyal element there to the will of traitors; and that it is eminently proper that the House should respond in emphatic terms to so extraordinary a proposition, and resolving that the House will never consent to take a retrograde step from its advanced position in promoting the cause of equal rights, nor to deviate from its fixed purpose of protecting all men as equal before the law; that there is no reason to doubt that the restoration of the rebellious States is being successfully accomplished on a firm and enduring basis, and that no good reason exists why the reconstruction acts should be repealed.

Mr. KERR moved to lay the resolution and preamble on the table. Negatived. Yeas, thirty-two; nays, one hundred and twelve. The resolution and preamble were then adopted. Yeas, one hundred and eleven; nays, thirty-two—strictly party vote.

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Mr. DAWES introduced a bill to change the time of holding the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific Railroad Company from the first Wednesday of October to the first Wednesday after the 4th of March, and to enable them to fix the place of meeting at Washington, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis, or New York. Passed.

Mr. WASHBURN, of Illinois, tried to get in an amendment restricting the rates to be charged for passengers and freight.

PAYMENT OF NATIONAL INDEBTEDNESS.

Mr. CUTLER moved to suspend the rules to enable him to offer a resolution declaring that in the judgement of the House all indebtedness of the nation ought to be paid in exact accordance with the act of Congress creating it, but not otherwise, that is to say, all loans enacted to be paid in gold to be so paid, and all loans not so enacted to be payable, ought to be paid in lawful money of the United States.

The rules were not suspended—yeas fifty-five, nays eighty-three, and the resolution was not received.

NAVY REDUCTION.

Mr. BLAINE offered a resolution instructing the Committee on naval affairs to report whether a reduction may be effected in the number of officers and men employed in the navy, by reducing the foreign squadron to the number of ships and guns, which were in France before the war. Adopted.

Mr. WOOD asked leave to offer a resolution declaring the House reserves to itself the right the judge of the necessity and propriety of making disbursements of public money without reference to any action of the President and Senate in the acquisition of territory, under that clause of the Constitution which vests in them the power to make treaties with foreign nation.

Mr. BANKS objected, and the resolution was not received.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT—TRIAL OF ALBERT RUSK.

The SPEAKER presented a message from the President transmitting copies of papers relating to the trial of Albert Rusk, of Indiana, in New Orleans, and stating that no action in the case had yet been taken by the President. The message was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The endorsement on the papers by the Secretary of War ad interim is that "the crime was a most fearful and brutal one: that this was the first trial for murder by a military commission under the reconstruction acts, and the sentence should be carried into effect."

FROM THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

A message was also received from the Secretary of War ad interim, relative to the claim of the State of Iowa for military supplies. Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

A message from the same, withdrawing his communication of the 21st of November, which recommended an increase of twenty per cent. to the pay of employees in the War Department, which was referred to the Committee on Retrenchment.

DEFICIENCY APPROPRIATION BILL.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. BROOMALL in the Chair, and considered the Deficiency Appropriation bill, which appropriates $118,592, and after debate reported it back to the House, which attached to it, by a vote of seventy-three to seventy, an amendment giving twenty per cent. additional to all civil employees in Washington whose compensation was under two thousand dollars. The bill was then tabled—seventy-three to sixty-seven.

The Deficiency Bill was again introduced and passed without the provision for additional compensation.

CONTRACTION OF CURRENCY.

The House refused to supend the rules, on motion of Mr. SCHENCK, in order to discharge the Committee on Banking and Currency from the consideration of Mr. Lynch's bill to prevent undue expansion and contraction of the currency. Mr. Schenck's object was to send it to the Ways and Means Committee.

MEMBERS' PAY AND MILEAGE.

Mr. HUBBARD, of West Virginia, asked leave to offer a resolution that the Committee on Retrenchment consider the expediency of reducing the pay of members of Congress to four thousand dollars and ten cents mileage, but it was objected to.

Advices from Hayti—The Murder of Gen. Montez—The Populace Tumultuous—War with St. Domingo—Counterfeit Money.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, December 16.—Havana specials state that the murder of General Montez at Cape Haytien is confirmed. The populace became very tumultuous and were denouncing the murder in unmeasured terms. War had been declared against Hayti by St. Domingo on account of the aid and countenance that the government lent to the partizans of Baez, who recently invaded Dominican territory at Monte Christo. General Craboz forces were already on the march and it was stated the Haytien forces had left the capital to meet the Dominicans.

Another special dispatch says: Universal discontent reigned at Cape Haytien, and report even says revolution had commenced.

Six millions of counterfeit Haytien paper dollars were reported in circulation throughout the republic. Some reports accuse President Salnave of having had a hand in their emission.

ROMAN CONFERENCE QUESTION SETTLED.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—It has been definitely ascertained that the European Conference plan, proposed by the Emperor Napoleon, on the Roman question, has failed. An assemblage was to have taken place in Munich on the 9th, but some difficulty was experienced in the diplomatic correspondence before the day arrived. Paris was then spoken of, and the form of representation was changed, but the same day was adhered to. Subsequently, after the delivery of a speech by Minister Rouher on the subject of the relations between Rome and Italy, in which he declared that Italy could never go to Rome by force, the hesitancy of the Powers assumed the form of open objection, on the ground of inutility. It has been ascertained to-day that the Conference or Congress will not assemble, as all the Great Powers have positively refused to attend.

GREAT BRITAIN.

FENIAN EXCITEMENT UNABATED.

LONDON, December 16.—The excitement occasioned by the recent operations of the Fenians has not abated. The press continues to denounce the outrages, and demand vigorous measures for their prevention in the future. The Times in an article on the subject says: "Fenianism must continually tend to the repetition of such acts as the Manchester riots and Clerkenwell explosion. Open war on the part of the Fenians is out of the question, and arson and secret murder are their only weapons of success."

STANTON'S REMOVAL.

President's Communication to the Senate—The Secretary, in Cabinet Meeting, Pronounced the Tenure of Office Law Unconstitutional—Is Asked to Prepare the Veto Message, but Declines on the Ground of Physical Disability—The New Orleans Riot—Responsibility Therefor.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, December 16.—The text of the President's communication to the Senate, relative to the removal of Secretary Stanton, is published. The President says in reference to Mr. Stanton's determination to remain in the Cabinet under the Tenure of Office act:

Every member of my Cabinet advised me the proposed law was unconstitutional, and spoke without doubt or reservation; but Mr. Stanton's condemnation of the law was most elaborate and emphatic. He referred to constitutional provisions, debates in Congress, and especially to the speech of Mr. Buchanan when a Senator, decisions of the Supreme Court and usage from the beginning of the Government through every successive administration, all concurring to establish the right of removal as vested by the Constitution in the President. To all these he added the weight of his own deliberate judgment and advised me that it was my duty to defend the power of the President from usurpation and the veto law.

After all this, I was not prepared for the ground taken by Mr. Stanton in his note of August 12th. I was not prepared to find him compelled by a new and indefinite sense of public duty under the Constitution to assume the vindication of a law, which, under the solemn obligations of public duty, imposed by the Constitution itself, he advised me was in violation of that constitution. I make great allowance for change of opinion, but such a change as this hardly falls within the limits of the greatest indulgence. I was so much struck with the full mastery of the question manifested by Mr. Stanton, and was at the time so fully occupied with the preparation of another veto, that I requested him to prepare the veto upon this Tenure of Office bill. This he declined to do on the ground of physical disability to undergo, at the time, the labor of writing, but stated his readiness to furnish what aid might be required to the preparation of materials for the paper.

I now pass to another subject. When on the 15th of April, 1865, the duties of the President's office devolved upon me, I found a full Cabinet of seven members, all of them selected by Mr. Lincoln. I made no change. On the contrary, I shortly afterwards ratified a change determined upon by Mr. Lincoln, but not perfected at his death, and admitted his appointment, Mr. Harlan, in place of Mr. Usher, who was in office at the time. The great duty of the time was to re-establish Government, law and order in the insurrectionary States. Congress was then in recess, and the sudden overthrow of the rebellion required speedy action. This grave subject had engaged the attention of Mr. Lincoln in the last days of his life, and the plan according to which it was to be managed had been prepared and was ready for adoption. A leading feature of that plan was that it should be carried out by executive authority, for, so far as I have been informed, neither Mr. Lincoln nor any member of his Cabinet doubted his authority to act, or proposed to call an extra session of Congress to do the work.

The first business transacted in Cabinet after I became President was the unfinished business of my predecessor. A plan or scheme of reconstruction was produced, which had been prepared for Mr. Lincoln by Mr. Stanton, his Secretary of War. It was approved and at the earliest moment practicable was applied in the form of a proclamation to the State of North Carolina, and afterwards became the basis of action in turn for the other States.

Upon the examination of Mr. Stanton before the Impeachment Committee, he was asked the following question: Did any one of the Cabinet express a doubt of the power of the Executive branch of the Government to reorganize State governments which had been in rebellion without the aid of Congress? He answered, none whatever. I had myself entertained no doubt of the authority of the President to take measures for the organization of the rebel States on the plan proposed during the vacation of Congress, and agreed to the plan specified in the proclamation in the case of North Carolina. There is perhaps no act of my administration for which I have been more denounced than this. It was not originated by me, but I shrink from no responsibility on that account, for the plan approved itself to my judgment and I did not hesitate to carry it into execution. Thus far and upon this vital policy there was perfect accord between the Cabinet and myself, and I saw no necessity for a change.

The President states the great difference of opinion with Mr. Stanton was on the District of Columbia suffrage and reconstruction bills of March, 1867, the vetoes of which were opposed by the latter, although all the other Cabinet members supported the President.

The President continues: I have now referred to the general grounds upon which the withdrawal of Mr. Stanton from the Administration seemed to be proper and necessary; but I cannot omit to state a special ground, which, if it stood alone, would vindicate my action. The sanguinary riot which occurred in the city of New Orleans on the 29th of August, 1866, justly aroused public indignation and public inquiry, not only as to those who were engaged in it, but as to those who, more or less remotely, might be held to responsibility for its occurrence. I need not remind the Senate of the effort which was made to fix that responsibility on the President. The charge was openly made, and again and again reiterated, all through the land, that the President was warned in time but refused to interfere. By telegrams from the Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General of Louisiana, dated the 27th and 28th of August, I was advised that a body of delegates, claiming to be a Constitutional Convention, were about to assemble in New Orleans; that the matter was before the Grand Jury, but that it would be impossible to execute civil process without a riot, and this question was asked: "Is the military to interfere to prevent the process of the Court?" This question was asked at a time when the civil courts were in the full exercise of their authority, and the answer sent by telegraph on the same 28th of August was this: "The military will be expected to sustain and not interfere with the proceedings of the courts." On the same 28th of August the following telegram was sent to Mr. Stanton by Major General Baird, then, owing to the absence of General Sheridan, in command of the military at New Orleans:

"Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War: SIR—A Convention has been called, with the sanction of Gov. Wells, to meet here on Monday. The Lieutenant Governor and City authorities think it unlawful and propose to break it up by arresting the delegates. I have given no orders on the subject, but have warned the parties. I could not countenance or permit such action without instruction to that effect from the President. Please instruct me at once by telegraph."

The 28th of August was on Saturday. The next morning, the 29th, this dispatch was received by Mr. Stanton, at his residence in this city. He took no action upon it and neither sent instructions to Gen. Baird himself, nor came to me for such instructions. On the next day, Monday, the riot occurred. Never saw this dispatch from Gen. Baird until some ten days or two weeks after the riot, when, upon my call for all the dispatches, with a view to their publication, Mr Stanton sent it to me. These facts all appear in the testimony of Mr. Stanton before the Judiciary Committee in the impeachment investigation.

On the 30th, the day of the riot, and after it was suppressed, General Baird wrote to Mr. Stanton a long letter, from which I make the following extract:

"SIR:—I have the honor to inform you that a very serious riot occurred here to-day. I had not been applied to by the Convention for protection, but the Lieutenant Governor and the Mayor had freely consulted with me, and I was so fully convinced it was so strongly the intent of the city authorities to preserve the peace in order to prevent military interference, that I did not regard an outbreak as a thing to be apprehended. The Lieut. Governor had assured me that even if a writ of arrest was issued by the Court, the Sheriff would not attempt to serve it without my permission, and for to-day they designed to suspend it."

I enclose herewith copies of my correspondence with the Mayor, and of a dispatch which the Lieut. Governor claims to have received from the President:

"I regret that no reply to my dispatch to you of Saturday has yet reached me. Gen. Sheridan is still absent in Texas."

The dispatch of Gen. Baird of the 28th asks for immediate instructions, and his letter of the 30th, after detailing a terrible riot which had just happened, ends with an expression of regret that the instructions which he asked for were not sent.

It is not the fault, or error, or omission of the President that this Military Commander was left without instructions, but for all omissions, for all errors, for all failures to instruct, when instruction might have averted this calamity, the President was openly and persistently held responsible. Instantly, without waiting for proof of the delinquency of the President, it was heralded in every form of utterance. Mr. Stanton knew then that the President was not responsible for this delinquency. The exculpation was in his power, but it was not given by him to the public, and only to the President, in obedience to a requisition for all the dispatches. No one regrets more than myself that Gen. Bairds' request was not brought to my notice. It is clear from his dispatch and letter, that if the Secretary of War had given him proper instructions, the riot which arose on the assembling of the Convention would have been averted. There may be those ready to say I would have given no instructions, even if the dispatch had reached me in time, but all must admit that I ought to have had the opportunity.

The President then reviews the relations between the Executive and heads of Departments, and quotes from old records of Congress and debates in the National Constitutional Convention to prove the illegality of the efforts to check the responsibility of the President by depriving him of the right of selecting his agents. He concludes as follows:

I had indulged the hope that upon the assembling of Congress Mr. Stanton would have ended this unpleasant complication. According to the intimation given in his note of August 12th, a duty which I have felt myself called upon to perform was by no means agreeable, but I feel I am not responsible for the controversy, or for the consequences. Unpleasant as this necessary change in my Cabinet has been to me, upon personal consideration, I have the consolation to be assured that so far as public interests are involved, there is no cause for regret. Salutary reforms have been introduced by the Secretary ad interim, and great a reduction of expenses has been effected, and under his administration of the War Department there has been a saving of millions to the Treasury.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12, 1867.

WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16, 1867.

NOMINATIONS.

The President has nominated to the Senate Wm. H. Gibbs to be Governor of Idaho.

STATE DEPARTMENT REPORTS.

The bill for the reorganization of the State Department, introduced by Senator Wilson, provides that it shall not be lawful for the Secretary to fill the office of chief clerks, or to replace heads of divisions or branches by new appointments but only by promotion; also that no traveling expenses of any person connected with the Department shall be paid; that the secret service fund shall be abolished in time of peace; that the President's approval shall not be sufficient voucher for the expenditure of any money in time of peace, but all items of expenditure from the funds of the Department shall be for purposes authorized by law.

—Concerning the Alabama claims the London Daily News remarks: "The difficulty raised so gratuitously by Mr. Seward on Lord Stanley's accession to office still obstructs a settlement," and the proceeds to sustain Lord Stanley's position already published. The Daily News concludes the article by expressing the hope that the "question between the two countries may be settled before the Democrats—the bitter enemies of England—come into office at Washington.

Serious Accident.

An accident occurred at the corner of Grant and Fifth streets, about six o'clock last evening, by which Mr. Jas. S. McCutcheon, and another gentleman whose name we did not learn, were severely if not seriously injured. The gentlemen had taken passage in the Minersville passenger sled, and were sitting in the front seat with the driver. They had proceeded as far as Grant street, when the horses baulked, and one of them when urged by the whip kicked, striking Mr. McCutcheon in the mouth, and the other gentlemen in the breast, knocking them both out of the sled. The injured men were picked up and carried into Able's drug store, where their injuries were attended to by Dr. McCook.

Mrs. Lander.

There assembled, last evening, at the Academy of Music, a very large and fashionable audience, on the occasion of Mrs. Lander's first appearance, this season, in historical tragedy of Elizabeth, Queen of England. The great actress, who, perhaps, has not her equal on the stage, seemed to thoroughly comprehend the character, and rendered it with decided effect, developing throughout the play a wonderful power of interpretation. She was admirably supported by the able company which attend her. To-night she will again appear in Elizabeth, and we trust everybody who can will be in attendance.

Black Crook.—The burlesque on the "Black Crook," as produced at the Opera House last night, is the most amusing farce we ever witnessed. The charming and versatile young actress, Miss Melville, has the exclusive right to this piece, and all who wish to see it should not fail to go to the Opera House during the present week, as her engagement terminates Saturday night.

Coroner's Inquest.—The Coroner's jury in the case of Michael Carson and Henry Hunter, who were killed at Oakdale Station, on the Panhandle Railroad, Saturday, the 7th inst., met at the Mayor's office at four o'clock yesterday evening, and after taking some additional testimony rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to their death through an unavoidable accident.

Physician Dead.—Dr. Albert Perchment, a well-known physician, died at his residence in Allegheny, Friday night last, of heart disease, after some weeks' illness. He was buried on Sunday, his funeral being attended by Odd Fellows, to which fraternity he belonged.

False Pretence.—Andrew O'Brien was committed by Alderman Thomas yesterday, to answer a charge of obtaining goods under false pretence, on oath of William Thompson.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE PENN STREET FIRE.

Inquest on the Body of Antoine Keck.

Monday forenoon the jury called by Coroner Clawson to hold an inqest on the remains of Antoine Keck, who received his death wound at the disastrous fire on Penn street, Saturday morning of last week, by the explosion of a musket, met at the Mayor's office and commenced the investigation. The following testimony was elicited:

DECEASED'S WOUND.

Dr. J. Burgher, sworn—Attended the deceased before his death, was called in about one o'clock Saturday morning; he resided on Liberty street, near O'Hara; he was said to have been injured by a missile received during the fire that night; on examination found the right clavicle splintered, and a wound into the interior of the chest; the external wound was about the size of a copper cent, and was of a ragged nature; the depth of the wound was not determined; the subclavicular vein was lacerated, or perhaps entirely divided; internal hemorrhage into the cavity of the chest was apparently very profuse; the nature of the wound proved that surgical aid would be ineffectual, and further examination was not deemed necessary; remained with the patient until his death, which occurred, perhaps, half an hour after I was called in; the wound was such as would be produced by a Minnie ball, and it is my opinion that a ball caused the injury.

SHOWER OF BULLETS.

Thomas Thompson testified to the fact that bullets were whizzing in all directions from the burning building, and that he saw the deceased at the time he was struck, standing in the street near the curb fronting the Ft. Wayne Railroad office.

THE ARMS—WHENCE THEY CAME.

Wm. Hazlett, sworn—In 1864, or thereabouts, I was shipping clerk for Colonel Cross, and at that time I attended to having a quantity of ordnance material removed to the building in question; a quantity of guns were among the stores, and I suppose those which were burned on Saturday to have been the ones; the muskets were taken to the warehouse from railroads and steamboats, and some, I suppose, from volunteers disbanded here; all that I saw put in the building were in boxes; if they had not been in boxes when received they were boxed up before being stored; at that time I suppose there were over a 100,000 stand of arms placed in the building; so far as I know all the guns were inspected before they were boxed up and stored; it was no part of my business to see to this; that duty devolved on the Ordnance Department, under Gen. Whitely, at the Arsenal; one or two officers were detailed by General Whitely to make the inspections; they were Mr. Johnson and Mr. Kenworthy; don't know whether they inspected these guns or not; don't know certainly whether any of the guns I had hauled were loaded or not; think there were no cartridges placed in the building by the Government; the orders were that none should ever be placed there.

ARMS NOT INSPECTED—DESCRIPTION AND NUMBER.

D. W. Wallace testified to the fact of having rented to the Government the premises for the storing of arms; he never knew of cartridges or powder being stored therein.

M. M. Bosworth, sworn—Am Chief Clerk of the Paymaster and Ordnance storekeeper at the Allegheny Arsenal; have held the position since 1860; it has been my business to superintend the receipt and issue of all stores at the Arsenal through the war, and so am familiar with the receiving and issuing of the guns in question. The arms stored in the building were received through the ordnance officers, from Nashville, Tennessee, and Louisville, Kentucky; they were packed in boxes and shipped by the ordnance officers to the commandant of the Allegheny Arsenal; they were received by him and stored in the same condition as they were received; we only counted and stored them, the inspection being supposed to have been done by the ordnance officers; they have more men for that purpose than we have at the Arsenal; we opened every box and counted the guns, but did not inspect them to see whether they were loaded, always supposing that they were not; never had any cartridges or powder in the store house; never knew any guns to be discharged in the handling; the arms of the troops discharged west of the Allegheny mountains had to be received by the commandant of Allegheny Arsenal; they were principally Springfield and Enfield muskets; as fast as received they were shipped to the United States Armory at Springfield, Massachusetts, for repairs; a casual inspection was made of these, and they were loaded up and shipped; about four thousand of those received from the troops west of the mountains were French muskets; the keys of the warehouse were in my care; there was no fire in that portion of the building, and no person had to visit it during the evening; visited it myself on Friday afternoon, and found everything all right; if I had had the slightest suspicion that any of the guns were loaded, I should have reported to Gen. Whitely, and have no doubt that he would have had them inspected carefully; there were 66,706 guns stored there at the time of the fire; in January, 1866, Mr. J. H. Johnson bought over twenty-five hundred of the guns stored there at Government sale; they were still kept stored in the warehouse; know of no regulation requiring officers receiving arms to inspect them to ascertain whether or not they are loaded.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR PRECAUTION.

Major A. S. M. Morgan, sworn—Am military storekeeper at the Allegheny Arsenal, and have been since 1863; know of the guns having been stored in the warehouse; the responsibility of taking precautions and making regulations for the safety of Government property rests, under military rule, on the commanding officer; in this case the commanding officer was General Whitely; there was nothing to prevent him making an inspection to ascertain whether the guns were loaded; in this case the guns were received in boxes, and it was fair to suppose that they had been previously inspected. No officer has any right to turn over loaded arms to the Ordnance Department, and an ordnance officer has no right to box up and ship guns that have not been inspected; suppose that Gen. Whitely took it for granted that the guns received from ordnance officers were in a perfectly safe condition, or they would not have been sent to him; they were mostly received during war times, when it was impossible to exercise such care as would be exercised now.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE—ROBBERY AND ARSON.

J. H. Johnson, sworn.—Am proprietor of the Great Western Gun Works, and occupied a portion of the building that was destroyed; know nothing of the origin of the fire, but from all that I can learn, suppose it to have caught in Mr. Wallace's store, next my shop, between it and the Government warehouse; have the impression that my store was first robbed and the place then fired; don't know just how many guns I had, but probably about three hundred; had a small lot of cartridges on hand; none of my guns were loaded; had three pounds can of powder, and a large can containing about ten pounds; had a number of guns which I bought from the Government, but drew the loads from all I sold; found about every other one of those which had been used and not repaired, with loads in them. Some of them contained four or five bullets; some of them contained gravel stones and other missiles in them. A large number of the guns stored in the warehouse were placed there while I was foreman of the armory shop at the Arsenal; knew when they were being placed there that many of them were loaded, and cautioned my friends to beware of them: knew one to explode in the hands of a workman; don't know whether I reported the fact of their being loaded to Gen. Whitley or not; it was not my duty to see the loads drawn; of eleven hundred and fifty guns which I purchased from the government, I think I found every other one loaded; while I was employed at the Arsenal I made no secret of the fact that the guns were loaded; it was the duty of the commanding officer of the post to give orders to have the guns placed in proper order. It was well known among the workmen at the armory shop at the Arsenal, that many of the guns were loaded; we frequently found loaded guns with caps on.

At this point the inquest adjourned to be resumed at half-past seven o'clock Tuesday (this) evening.

More Bridge Cases.—Hugh Boyle, night watchman at the St. Clair street bridge, yesterday, made information before Alderman Humbert, against J. P. Murphy and Samuel Freshwater, car drivers on the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway, for fast driving over the St. Clair street bridge. He also made information against J. W. Simpson for the same offense. The parties were arrested and discharged on payment of costs, this being the first offense.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Williams.

MONDAY, December 16.—In the case of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital vs. Allegheny County Home, the jury found in favor of the plaintiffs for the sum of $3,646.97, subject to the opinion of the Court on the questions of law reserved.

Edwin Bindley vs. the Township of Wilkins. In August, 1866, the plaintiff and his mother were passing along the plank road at Turtle Creek, in a buggy, and as they were about passing the point where the road is crossed by the railroad track, by a bridge, the horse took fright, backed over the bank into the Creek and was drowned. Suit is brought to recover the value of the horse, negligence being alleged on the part of the township authorities in allowing an obstruction in the road in the shape of a huge rock, and in not having erected a fence along the bank of the creek. On trial.

Following is the list for this day:

134. J. P. Gilson vs. Ardesco Oil Co.
137. Tug "Mary Davage" vs. W. H. Brown.

Quarter Sessions

The criminal Court met at ten o'clock Monday morning, Judge Stowe on the bench.

FORCIBLE EJECTION FROM A TAVERN.

The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Grogan, who was indicted for assault and battery, Wm. Graham appearing as prosecuting witness. The defendant keeps a tavern on Ohio street, Allegheny, and the prosecutor testified that on the 15th of October last he was roughly and forcibly ejected from the house by defendant. He further testified that he had no provocation for this ejection. Witnesses called for the defense testified that the defendant had ample reason for putting out Graham, and that no more force was used than was necessary under the circumstances. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs.

LARCENY OF A BOX OF TOBACCO.

Isaac Williams, colored, was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with the larceny of a box of tobacco from the front door of R. & W. Jenkinson's tobacco manufactory, on Federal street, Allegheny. Officer Greenwood, who arrested the accused, testified that on the evening of October 17th last, he observed Williams pick up the box of tobacco and start up street. He started in pursuit, overtook Williams, and conveyed him to the lock-up. The jury found a verdict of guilty without leaving the box, and the accused was remanded for sentence.

LARCENY OF A COAT.

Henry Bell, colored, was indicted for the larceny of a coat from Frank Strothers, an employee at the Monongahela House. The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

LARCENY OF PIG METAL.

Thomas Bogue was arraigned on an indictment charging him with the larceny of fifteen hundred pounds of pig metal from the metal yard of Messrs. Shoenberger & Blair, in the Fifth ward. One of the witnesses for the prosecution testified that some time in August he saw the defendant and two others unloading some pig metal from a small flat moored on the bank of the river in the Ninth ward. He told them that the metal was stolen, and that after he had made the charge several times, they threw the metal out of the wagon and left it lying on the ground. The metal was subsequently identified by members of the firm, and Bogue was arrested on the charge of having stolen it. The defendant offered no evidence, but his counsel argued that he was simply employed as a day laborer by a party who stands indicted for receiving stolen goods, and contended that the Commonwealth had failed to establish the slightest guilt on the part of the defendant. The jury found a verdict of guilty, and defendant was remanded for sentence.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

Casper Bowersmith was next placed on trial on an indictment for receiving stolen goods. The pig iron, for the larceny of which the defendant in the preceding case was tried, was found on Bowersmith's premises, a portion of which was under lock and key. Verdict not guilty.

A BLACKBERRY CASE.

Wm. Soles was arraigned upon a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Mrs. Jane Wilkinson. The defendant is a respectable farmer, residing in the vicinity of Port Perry, and had a blackberry patch, which was the source of considerable annoyance to him, by his neighbors and others trespassing upon the premises. In August last the prosecutrix and other women were picking berries, and were ordered away by the defendant, who took a bucket out of the hands of one of the intruders. Mrs. Wilkinson testified that she was resting on the premises, while on her way home, at the time of the assault, and that the defendant attacked and beat her shamefully. Verdict guilty.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT.

Edward Curran was placed on trial on an indictment for felonious assault and battery, on oath of Michael Dougherty. The prosecutor, Dougherty, was employed as a "pit boss" at the coal works in the vicinity of Noblestown, and the defendant took umbrage at him for no other reason, seemingly, than that he (Curran) had failed in obtaining employment at the coal works. The parties met at Bell's tavern on the 20th of November last, and Curran, first drawing a knife and keeping it concealed, approached Dougherty with the remark: "Mike you would not give me a job." Dougherty replied, "yes I would, if I had a place for you." Curran then called Dougherty a "liar" and used other bad language. Following this they "came together" and Curran used the knife, and clinched with Dougherty, and after a few blows had been exchanged they were separated. Dougherty's clothing was considerably cut, but no injury done to his person. The case was on trial at adjournment.

Watches, Jewelry, &c.

We were afraid our readers were not to be made aware of the large stock now opening by Messrs. Wattles & Sheafer, 101 Fifth street, nearly opposite the GAZETTE office, but that intelligent firm has determined otherwise, as our advertising columns show to-day. This store is a new one—the goods are all new—a large stock suited to the holiday season has just arrived. It embraces, besides all the staple articles, such as watches for gents and ladies of the highest and all the lower grades, clocks, &c., an endless variety of fancy goods adapted to all tastes and all purses. Some of them are of entirely new designs and of rare beauty. Persons in search of presents for the holidays, should not fail to visit this store. They will be sure to find here exactly the thing, whether for father, mother, brother, sister, grandpa, or the children, or for belle or beaux, lover or sweetheart.

Manchester Reading Rooms.

A meeting will be held in the Manchester Presbyterian Church, this evening, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, for the purpose of receiving the report of the Committee on Collections, appointed at a previous meeting, and to take final action in regard to the establishment of the Reading Rooms, for which purpose the collections were made. The matter is one of general interest to that immediate community, and the meeting should be well attended. The establishment of a good reading room, under the direction of the Association, would be of incalculable benefit to any community, and the christian portion of Manchester should give the enterprise a hearty support, and those who are capable of doing nothing more can, at least, give encouragement by their presence at the meeting.

Committed.

Catharine Campbell yesterday made information before Justice R. H. Kerr, of McClure township, against John McCarthy, for surety of the peace. The defendant was arrested, and after a hearing was held in the sum of three hundred dollars bail for his appearance at Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

James McConnelly, at the same time and place, made two informations against McCarthy for aggravated assault and battery and for surety of the peace, in both of which commitments were lodged against him.

False Pretense.—William Thompson appeared before Alderman Thomas yesterday, and preferred an information charging one Andrew O'Brien with false pretence. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant obtained two weeks boarding from him, the whole amounting to ten dollars, under false representations. The defendant was arrested on a warrant issued for his arrest, and committed to jail in default of bail.

Time Honored.

The well known jewelry house of J. B. McFadden & Co., 95 Market street, the oldest in that line in this city, is not only time-honored and venerable, but it is equally honored for the high toned integrity with which its business, under the management whether of the elder or younger McFadden, has always been conducted. In this establishment no man ever received pinchbeck for gold or glass for diamond. They are, by long experience, perfect judges of goods, and have acquired a high reputation for correct taste. This is always apparent in the quality and style of their goods, and is appreciated by multitudes of customers who habitually patronize this house in the faith that they will not be deceived in quality or price, and that no trickery or jugglery will be practiced. Their old patrons need no advertisement to secure either their confidence or their custom. Nevertheless, Messrs. McFadden advertise in the GAZETTE to-day, chiefly to inform their old friends, and a host of our readers besides, that just now, in time for the hollidays, their usually large stock has been extensively replenished, and now embraces very many fancy articles of new designs and exquisite beauty never before seen in this market. The most refined and cultivated taste will find in the assortment many things to please. Among the novelties is a Viennese skate-bag, of which we expect to see thousands at our skating parks and rinks, and numberless utilities, ornaments and oddities worthy of visit, admiration and purchase.

Out Again.

Jane Fitzpatrick alias Annie Welsh, who figured conspicuously in the public prints a few weeks since, has again brought herself to notice. Our readers are doubtless familiar with her attempt to black-mail a respectable merchant of the city, and how she victimized a gay student of divinity, and more recently the reported "outrage" at the Union Depot, in which she figured as the victim. The present difficulty, it appears, arose out of the first case mentioned, in which she employed an attorney who, upon an investigation of the case, threw it up and would have nothing to do with it. She was, therefore, compelled to employ other counsel, who, we are informed, also refused to conduct the case after he became familiar with the facts. Jane did not relish this mode of proceeding, and yesterday she repaired to the office of the attorney whom she first employed, and, without giving him the slightest intimation of her intentions, "went for him" in regular "Kilkenny cat" style, scratching his face and tearing his clothes. The gentleman endeavored to get out of her way, and started to run, when she seized hold of the skirt of his overcoat and held on until it was split up to the collar, and the attorney vanished through the door minus one-half of his overcoat. He made information before Alderman McMasters against her for surety of the peace, upon which a warrant was issued, Jane arrested, and lodged in jail.

Caught at Last.

Alderman Butler and Officer Little yesterday arrested Charles Lucas, the negro who it will be remembered effected his escape from jail about two months since, where he had been placed to answer a charge of horse stealing, by exchanging clothing with a fellow prisoner whose term expired upon the day on which he made his escape. Lucas, it appears, has been travelling backward and forward between this city and Buffalo, New York, ever since his escape, and upon the present occasion came to the city, three or four days prior to his arrest, and intended to leave for Buffalo this morning, to join his wife, and go from there to Canada. He was arranging his business here for that purpose, and had about completed it, when captured. The officers hearing of his presence in the neighborhood, repaired to Minersville, the place he formerly resided, yesterday morning, and upon reaching his house found him packing up some articles ready for transportation. He was taken into custody and committed to the care of Warden White, where he is likely to remain until other quarters are provided for him.

Assault and Battery.

Matthew Mannus made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, charging Frank Toner with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused attacked him on the street and knocked him down. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Toner.

James Butler made information the same day before the same magistrate, against John Nolan, charging him with assault and battery. The parties are employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and work at the metal yard on Grant street. They disagreed about their work, and to settle the dispute got into a fight, which resulted in a prosecution. Nolan was arrested and held for a hearing.

Child Burned to Death.

A child of Mr. Henry Paulus, residing on Ohio avenue, Fifth ward, Allegheny, died on Sunday from the effects of severe burns, received the evening previous. The child was aged four years, and had been left alone in a crib up stairs in the house. The mother had been absent from the room but a few moments when she was startled by the piercing screams of the child. Hurrying up to the room, she found the child enveloped in flames. She succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but the little fellow was terribly burned. The child had climbed out of its crib, which was near the fire, and it is supposed that its light night clothes came in contact with the grate.

The Great Special Sale.

The attendance at the special sale held by Messrs. Joseph Horne & Co., Nos. 77 and 79 Market street, has been very large, and thousands of persons have already availed themselves of the rare opportunity afforded for obtaining trimmings, notions, embroideries, and general holiday goods at great bargains. The firm are determined to close out their immense stock at prices lower than have been offered here for many years. Dealers who are in the city to purchase their holiday goods are earnestly invited to favor this house with a call.

Female Bruisers.—Elizabeth Jones and Jane Lacock, residents of the Fifth ward, appear to be aspirants for pugilistic honors, but Elizabeth does not like the practice, and after the "first round" between them, which took place yesterday morning, went before Alderman Taylor and made information against Jane for assault and battery. A warrant was issued, and it is to be hoped that their desire for "P. R." notoriety may terminate with the one effort.

Surety of the Peace.—Mathew Mannus made information before Alderman McMasters, against Frank Toner, for surety of the peace. The prosecutor resides on Prospect street. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

James Butler, yesterday, made information, before the same magistrate, against John Nolan, for surety of the peace. The parties work in the metal yard of the Pennsylvania Railroad. A warrant was issued.

Paid the Costs.—James Bracken made information before Alderman Humbert, charging Dennis Defoe with assault and battery. Dennis was arrested and taken before the Alderman, when the case was amicably settled and the defendant discharged upon payment of costs.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—James Prescott, of Scott township, yesterday made information before Alderman McMasters, charging William Ashby with selling liquor without license. Ashby resides on Third street. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Larceny.—George Lickley made information before Alderman Lindsay, charging Casper Williams with larceny. The defendant was arrested and, after a hearing, committed to jail in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

Universalist Fair, at City Hall, is now in full tide, and is the great attraction of the season. Let all who wish to spend pleasant evenings in a pleasant place visit City Hall. The Fair closes each evening with a grand promenade.

Bawdy House.—J. Prescott, yesterday, made information before Alderman McMasters, charging William Ashley and Rachel, his wife, with keeping a bawdy house. The defendants reside on Third street. A warrant was issued for their arrest.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1867.

It is now reported that the European Conference on the Roman question has failed. The other powers are tired of having France make up a case, and then summon them to ratify it.

The House of Representatives, by a large majority, has passed resolutions strongly adhering to its plan of Reconstruction. A declaration of this was not only needed, but must have been felt by the House to be required, after its recent back down.

Yesterday morning we copied a statement from the Philadelphia Press to the effect that a report would soon be made by an agent of the Treasury Department, showing extraordinary corruption in the collection of internal revenue in this county. We are assured by gentlemen here, who claim to be well informed, and whose position certainly gives them opportunities of knowing the facts, that the report in question has respect only to the charges recently ventilated in connection with the inspection of oil. It is stated that Gen. Moorhead has signified his intention of calling for this report, and that this circumstance gave rise to the mis-statement alluded to.

GOVERNING WITHOUT CONSENT.

That England has shamefully misgoverned Ireland, for many centuries, is a fact denied by all men who are so mastered by theologic egotism that they consider all historic problems from the stand-point of a creed. This number includes most Englishmen and a good many more. All these, to borrow a phrase from President Johnson's recent message, believe Ireland is entitled to be "well and humanely governed," and that this is what England has been and is still doing for it. Impartial history tells a very different tale. Even English statesmen, in their places in Parliament, have stoically avowed that England oppressed Ireland upon system, and that this system of oppression should be continued.

During the last year the condition of Ireland has given England much uneasiness. The Fenian conspiracy, though badly managed, has manifestly enlisted the warmest sympathies of the larger part of the population. In London, and all the other commercial or manufacturing centers, throughout England and Scotland, the Irish denizens share liberally in the feelings which animate their countrymen at home. These denizens are so numerous in many places as to be really formidable.

Latterly the English Government has been trying what virtue there is in penal severities in the way of suppressing tumultuary and organized outbreaks against its authority. Some Fenian leaders have been convicted, sentenced to death, and executed. The popular answer to this form of intimidation came in the blowing up with powder of a prison in which Fenians were incarcerated; in a conspiracy to abduct the Queen; and in projected funeral services disclosing the depth to which the Irish are agitated and the strength of their determination to exact redress.

These are the legitimate fruits of that "well and humanely governing" which the Conservatives are anxious to introduce into the Southern States. There was a time when this sort of government, laid on the shoulders of masses, was borne with little wincing; but that was a time of ignorance, when men did not understand their rights, or, knowing, did not dare maintain them. Happily for all but tyrants, that period has gone by in some countries, and is rapidly disappearing from others. All efforts, by Conservatives, to restore it, will be in vain.

THE CONGRESSIONAL PLATFORM.

Political parties are always best distinguished by their generic ideas and tendencies, rather than by the specific measures they may from time to time espouse. These primary ideas and tendencies remain permanently, while particular measures, having met the exigencies for which they were devised, cease through the natural progress of events to be of consequence.

The Republican party was organized to resist the encroachments of the Slave Power, which had grown to such dimensions as to menace Liberty with complete destruction. It was in the order of things that all who loved Liberty, either for its intrinsic excellence and beauty, or for its extrinsic utility and beneficence, should unite with this party and contribute to the accomplishment of the end it proposed. If any man had decided at the beginning, that this party could be better judged simply by the special measures it advocated than by the convictions lying back of all measures whatever, he would have made a great mistake. This was demonstrated when in the course of the rebellion it became necessary to strike at the existence of Slavery. At that conjuncture the innate tendencies of the party came into exercise, and Slavery was overthrown.

So, on the other hand, the democratic party is best judged not by its temporary measures, but by its inherent tendencies. It resisted the hedging about of Slavery, because it liked that institution and would gladly have made it both permanent and national.

The country has reached a development where the measures upon which the two great political parties divided four years ago, are effete, having subserved all the purposes they were designed for, and so become useless as shibboleths. Nevertheless, the vitalizing ideas and tendencies of parties remain essentially the same. The Republican party is still devoted to Liberty, which is evinced in its demand for the recognition of Equality of Political Rights; while the Democratic party is still for Slavery, as it attested by the vehemence of its protest against the idea of making men equal, in all respects, before the laws. Measures only have changed, while the fundamental principles abide as they were.

This inherent distinction being understood, it only becomes necessary for each political party, as the next Presidential canvass approaches, to define by what particular measures, suited to the existing condition of affairs, it will symbolize its character and intentions. The Republican members of Congress, though not specifically charged with this duty, so far as relates to their party, occupy a position in which they cannot help foreshadowing, with tolerably certainty, the lines which the National Convention, when it shall assemble, will authoritatively trace. So far as the manifestations during the current session enable us to form an opinion, we judge that the Republicans will insist on these points. 1. That Reconstruction shall be consummated in accordance with the plan upon which the seceding States are now proceeding. 2. That the industry of the country shall be relieved, to the largest practicable extent, of the burden of taxation which it now carries. 3. That the policy of contracting the paper currency shall cease. 4. That the current expenses of the government shall be cut down to the lowest possible point. 5. That the army shall be reduced to a peace standard, nearly upon the basis that existed before the war. 6. That the augmentation of the navy shall be suspended, and sales made of all vessels not needed for actual service.

Of course, the five months that must elapse before the meeting of the National Convention may produce abatements or additions to this platform which cannot now be foreseen. The delegates will have the advantage of receiving credentials from the constituencies of a later duty than those held by Congressmen, and hence reflect more accurately the state of public opinion as it may then appear. Still, we apprehend, that an essential agreement will be found to exist between the Convention and the Republican side of Congress.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Killing Time for Hogs and Beef.

The subject of killing domestic animals for food comes directly home to every farmer and farmer's wife in the country. Slaughtering is not so pleasant to the farmer as the preliminary labors of breeding, raising and fattening, neither are the labors it imposes upon the good-wife so agreeable as preparing the fat spare ribs and sirloin roasting pieces for the table, yet both are equally necessary.

It is very desirable to have cold weather for the operation, and as our cold days are very likely to come in threes or fours, there seldom being more than four consecutive very cold days, and usually but three, it is best to be ready, and to take the first clear, cold day for the work, and to trust to the two following days to freeze what meat is to be kept fresh. In regard to pork, that is almost all to be salted or smoked, this is not very important, yet it is much more convenient and pleasant to handle meat that is firm and cold than that which is flabby.

The most convenient way for a farmer to handle heavy hogs in slaughtering is to have a block and tackle to swing the hog by while bleeding, the rope being made fast to one hind leg below the hock. By the same tackle he is lifted and lowered into the tub of hot water in scalding for the removal of the bristles. The dressing table should be level with the tub, and as soon as one hog is scalded and lifted out upon the table the rope may be attached to another. It will not be necessary to use the tackle to lift the hogs out of the tub, for this may be done easily if two ropes, held apart by three or four rings, like a piece of rope ladder, are fastened to the table and lie in and across the tub, so that the hog will lie upon them; taking hold of the ends of the ropes two men can lift and roll out a heavy hog easily.

In cutting up beef it is important to remember that the object is not simply to get it all into small pieces, but to have the pieces in such shape, and so cut with relation to the bones, that the meat will cook to the best advantage, cut up well, it will appear well on the table, and more than all, be more palatable and nutritious. All this depends much upon the cutting up of the carcass.

There are many approved ways of doing this, and we cannot now discuss them, but may give two general hints, which, if followed, will be satisfactory to everybody. First, cut so that the pieces, when brought to the table, may be cut across the fibre, as squarely as possible. Second, so divide the carcass that each part shall have its due proportion of bone. This is difficult indeed, for the skins and knuckles will have much bone and little meat, the end of the ribs, too, and the piece including the great bones of the hip and pelvis will be disproportionately bony, and pieces cut from the leg for smoked beef and salting may properly be quite free from bone; nevertheless, retail butchers know they must ever try to make a fair division of the bone among their customers, and the result is much more satisfactorily shaped pieces than if this principle were not heeded.

Drying Apples.

Dried apples are used as a necessity in place of green apples. They are not to be compared, of course, with the fresh, juicy fruit. This is in consequence of an error on the part of those who dry them. Almost any apples are taken to dry. Would a man take such to eat—to use for cooking? We eat bad apples only when we get them in the dried state. Not only that, we get them in a bad state, partly rotten, sticking together, often fly-specked. It is a habit more than anything else that gives us such apples; we are also somewhat careless and considerably ignorant. We are not aware, for instance, or do not realize it, that an apple dried is still much the same that it was before it was dried, excepting the juice. Thus, a sour apple will be sour when dried, fully as sour as when in its green state. If hard and immature, those qualities will be measurably retained. If your apple is sweet, you get it sweet dried. If it has a good flavor while green, that flavor will be retained when dried. If the fruit is mellow when dried it will retain its mellowness. The best dried apples perhaps, that are used, are the Æsopus Spitzenbergs—not when made up as soon as picked; but when in a mellow state, as they will be in February or March, or earlier, if the season is warm. Made then, when a fly has no access to them, and properly dried, there is nothing finer, save the perfection of the green fruit itself. Thus, winter drying of fruit is better than when made earlier. The dried fruit is then clean, bright and mellow, and yet harsh and sour—not tasting of rotten apples and mold, unless carelessly managed, dried too slow, and permitted to get damp during the process, (as is the case some nights in the absence of fire,) or after; for fruit when dry must be kept dry. Treated thus, dried fruit is but little below fresh fruit. Try it.

Dried apples may be made of an excellent flavor, in the following manner: After stewing them, or cooking them down to a soft mass, (a few minutes before taking them up,) add a lemon or two, sliced thin, and stir well into the mass. Some persons who are unacquainted with this method, take them for some very superior fruit. It makes nice fruit for the supper or breakfast table.—Rural American.

How to Make Good Coffee.

Good coffee is a luxury, but one that is seldom met with. It is doubtful whether one family in a dozen know what really good coffee is. Though we have published "line upon line" upon this subject, we give the following, from a lady correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph, and hope some of our lady readers will give the method recommended a trial, and report to us the results.

The making of good coffee is a rare thing in this country; most persons boil it, thus making a decoction instead of an infusion; this effectually gets rid of the delicate and agreeable aromatic flavor, and leaves a comparatively tasteless beverage. The following particulars will be found worth attention:

Never buy your coffee ground, but grind it yourself, immediately before using it; keep your coffee pot, whatever kind you may use, wiped clean and dry inside; a damp tea or coffee pot acquires a musty flavor that spoils the best tea or coffee. The cheapest and perhaps the best coffee pots are those made on the French plan, called cafetieres. If you have not one of these, adopt the following plan: Put your freshly ground coffee into the coffee pot previously made warm, and pour upon it water actually boiling; set the pot by the side of the fire for a few seconds, but do not let it boil up; then pour a cupful out and return it back again to the pot in order to clear it; having done this let it stand on the hob or center to settle, and in less than five minutes a transparent, strong, aromatic cup of coffee may be poured out. The proportions of coffee (which should not be too finely ground) recommended, are an ounce to a pint and a half of water.

The milk used with coffee should always be boiled and used as hot as possible; the boiling of milk imparts a peculiar and exceedingly pleasant flavor to the coffee. White sugar is recommended, as the molasses like flavor of moist sugar quite overpowers the delicate aroma.

Egg Raising in France.

The egg business in France is almost exclusively confined to small farmers, by whom it is carried on in a vigorous and commercial manner, more especially in the provinces of Burgundy, Normandy, and Picardy. According to the latest agricultural returns furnished by the French government, for forty-three departments, the value of eggs and feathers produced each year was taken at 32,500,000 francs. This was considered to be much under the mark, as the consumption of Paris alone is equivalent to 12,000,000 francs; and although, per head, it would be less in the provinces than at Paris, it may be fairly set at rather more than half as great. The eggs, which at Paris are worth sixty francs per 1,000, average forty francs per 1,000 in the country. We thus obtain a total of 100,000,000 francs, or, with the export, 142,000,000 francs (£5,680,000), as the annual value of French eggs. At this rate the consumption amounts to 2s. per head of the whole population. One of the French writers on this subject gives 7,000,000 eggs as the annual produce; and if we average sixty eggs as the number that each hen would lay, there would be at least 117,000,000 fowls, and these at three francs apiece would give £14,625,000 sterling as the value of the poultry stock of France. For the past year, on the same ratio of sixty per head, the eggs imported into this country represent the laying of no less than 7,300,000.

Scalds and Burns.

On the instant of the accident, plunge the part under cold water. This relieves the pain in a second, and allows all hands to become composed. If the part cannot be kept under water, cover it over with dry flour, an inch deep or more. In both cases pain ceases because the air is excluded. In many instances nothing more will be needed after the flour; simply let it remain until it falls off, when a new skin will be found under. In severer cases, while the part injured is under water, simmer a leak or two in an earthen vessel, with half their bulk of hog's lard, until the leeks are soft; then strain through a muslin rag. This makes a greenish colored ointment, which, when cool, spread thickly on a linen cloth and apply it to the injured part. If there are blisters, let out the water. When the part becomes feverish and uncomfortable, renew the ointment, and a rapid, painless cure will be the result, if the patient, in the meantime, lives exclusively on fruits, coarse bread, and other light, loosening food.

If the scald or burn is not very severe—that is, if it is not deeper than the outer skin—an ointment made of sulphur, with lard enough to make it spread stiffly on a linen rag, will be effectual. The leek ointment is most needed when there is ulceration from neglected burns, or when the injury is deeper than the surface. As this ointment is very healing and soothing in the troublesome excoriations of children, and also in foul, indolent ulcers, and is said to be efficacious in modifying, or preventing altogether, pitting of small pox, it would answer a good purpose if families were to keep it on hand for emergencies—the sulphur ointment for moderate cases, and the leek ointment in those of greater severity, or of a deeper nature.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Feeding Rusty Straw.

Says a correspondent from Wyoming county, New York: "Tell your readers to beware of feeding rusty straw to their stock. I had some experience in this line last winter with three colts, which had free access to a stack of rusty spring wheat straw. They came near dying; their coats were rough and staring, swellings, filled with thin pus or water, appeared on their limbs and some parts of their bodies, and they also seemed to have a difficulty in the head and nostrils. Change of feed and good care alone got them through to grass, but they were much injured. I have also seen cattle do very poorly when feeding on rusty straw, though they were stabled and fed hay, &c., nights and mornings. I think farmers should be careful in feeding or allowing their stock to eat this; the best use for it is to bed with."—Rural New Yorker.

TIMBER ON THE PACIFIC SIDE.

Editors Gazette: At the request of a friend in the eastern part of the State, I wrote to my son, who resides on the bank of the Columbia river, for a full and accurate statement of the several kinds of timber found in that part of the world, and of their fitness for the construction of railroad cars. In reply he sent me the following, which may be interesting to many, and possibly of practical value to some.

Yours, truly, J. C.

Cascades, Washington Ter., November 8th, 1867.

* * * * You ask if there is "timber on the Pacific side suitable for railroad cars, either passenger or freight." When this road and the Dalles road were first stocked, the trucks of all the cars were brought from the East, and were of oak, it being believed then that there was no wood on this side suitable. The upper frames of the passenger cars, too, were brought from "the States," and were of ash. But these frames were procured in the East more because there was no one here who understood car building, than because of the wood. Before these arrived, however, the company, needing cars, had two cars built of fir, and we cannot see but that they stand as well as those, the frames of which were of oak and ash. The freight cars on these roads are all of fir, except the trucks brought from the East; and, so far as we can see, there could be no better wood.

Three years ago last spring we built trucks of fir for two freight cars, by way of experiment, and they are as good as new, yet, notwithstanding they have been off the track several times, the wheels being 1½ inches narrower guage than the others. The conductor told me a few days ago that they were the only good trucks on the road, and that if he has an extra load to take he always chooses one of these cars. He says he has had 25 tons on them at a time. We now use no other wood for trucks and frames. For siding we use yellow cedar, which answers very well, but pine would be better.

We have three kinds of fir, white, yellow and red. The white fir, eastern men tell me, is the same as the fir of Maine. This is little used, and for nothing except boards. The red and yellow are almost the same—the red a little the hardest and strongest; but we never discriminate.

So far as I have been able to see and learn, the red and yellow firs are peculiar to this coast. They are by far the strongest of the "soft woods;" and it is getting to be pretty generally believed that, when six inches or more thick, they are stronger than oak. Our experience with it here would go to show that it is.

White oak is the only kind of oak we have on this side, but it differs greatly from the white oak of the East. It is of little use for anything, being rough, coarse-grained and harsh, and it is wholly unfit for our work.

The ash here differs from any in the East, and is not as good as your white ash. It is scarce.

In California there is plenty of pine, and the sugar pine is almost the same kind of wood as white pine.

We have no cherry, walnut or hard maple, nor any wood to take the place of them.

I have said, I believe, all that is needed of our woods, and much in favor of our fir; but I should not like to advise any one to come here and build cars of it, for no company would accept them. One not acquainted with it, or who has not seen it tested, would as soon think of using white pine. For the bodies of the cars it would do, but the trucks would have to be of Eastern oak. I doubt even if a California company could be induced to try a fir truck by way of experiment.

As ever, your son, E. C.

Suggestions of the Season.

King Winter has waved his sceptre over the land, whitening the earth, bridging the streams, and turning the waterfalls to pendant crystal. Upon animated as well as inanimate nature, the frigid atmosphere produces a marked effect. The blood is driven from the surface of the body back upon its inner fountains, and chills and Fever, Rheumatism, Pulmonary Diseases, Biliousness, and unpleasant disorders of the stomach and bowels are apt to be the result.

Now, what is required to fortify the system against the attacks of disease thus engendered? Clearly a TONIC, which, acting through the stomach upon the circulation and the nervous system, shall redetermine the vital fluid to the surface, and brace the nerves of motion and sensation. But this is not all that is required. With the TONIC must be combined such ALTERATIVE and REGULATING agencies as will tend to keep the whole animal machinery "in good working order."

These three grand requisites of a winter restorative exist, in their fullest perfection, in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which are compounded of the purest vegetable stimulants and extracts, of the most genial and healthful roots, barks and plants that the herbalists and botanists of the world have yet discovered.

Coughing in Church.

Hundreds of persons destroy the interest of a whole congregation, by a continued coughing and sneezing, when in church, and frequently interrupt the preacher in his sermon, by a long bark, as unbecoming as it is dangerous to the health of the person himself. This need not be. DR. KEYSER, of Pittsburgh, has prepared a medicine which, although you can't carry it in your pocket, if you will take a dose before going to church, will allay all tickling and irritation of the lungs, and by a perseverance in its use for a day or two, will entirely cure the disease. SO DON'T COUGH ANY MORE IN CHURCH; THINK OF DR. KEYSER and his CHERRY PECTORAL; open your heart strings and purse strings, and you will be a better and happier man, and not be looked upon as one who annoys your neighbors. You can get it at any Druggists.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE!

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capital, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It gives as much reading matter as any paper sold at twelve dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

With the enlargement, every department has been strengthened. The high character of its editorial columns will be maintained, and all questions of public importance will be fearlessly discussed.

The news department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and in condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and maintain for the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

Ample space has been reserved for market reports, which can at all times be relied upon as correct, as the current quotations for manufactures, farm products, cattle, &c., &c., are daily gathered from actual sales, by faithful and efficient reporters.

The river news is collected with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced banker, who will render it quite as attractive and useful specially to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and readable to members of all religious denominations.

The agricultural, art, science, literary, personal and other departments of the paper will be conducted in a manner which will prove satisfactory to the reader.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the markets at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their present ones to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

HEALING WITHOUT DRUGS.
The true curative plan or natural healing art is based entirely upon physiological principles—upon the ACTIVITY OF FUNCTIONS in appropriating or using the LIFE SUSTAINERS, and their nutrient use thereby assimilated in a manner that is potent in the BANISHMENT OF DISEASE from the system. But before we can heal through the inherent vital properties of the tissues, we bring the NATIONAL MATERIA MEDICA to bear, in DRAWING OUT THE DISEASE MEDICINES, and morbid materials through the activity of the depurating channels, sanatory provisions and safety valves, with which the system is bountifully supplied. But when these are either obstructed or not understood, the penalty is the same; therefore instead of quaking lest we die before we have gained more money than we can use, it is our highest policy to learn first the laws of righteousness in the bodily tabernacle, in order that we may live to inherit our natural wealth of happiness. By our normal tonics, alteratives, stimulants, sedatives, &c., we get the FRIENDLY changes of vital action, without the corrosive wounds inflicted by drugs. By a correct dealing with causes in the province of disease, we eradicate the whole catalogue of parasites, among which are tape worm, erratic worm, &c.; also, tumors, cancers, ulcers, abscesses, dropsy, insanity, diseases of the bones or mollities, ossium and fragilitas ossium, deafness, liver complaint, dyspepsia, gout, rheumatism, neuralgia, and in short every disease that flesh is heir to, provided our remedial plan is strictly adhered to. We do not expect to please all, But those who have been the victims of the empyricism and ingenious lingo of similia similibus curantur, and contraria contrariis curantur practice; and now wish PHYSICAL REDEMPTION, in its broadest sense, can try the Vis-Conservatrix Naturae Method, by giving us a call, at No. 80 CENTRE AVENUE, Pittsburgh.

GLEANINGS.

—The Prince of Wales is a constant attendant on the most ritualistic church in London.

—Thanks to the Crown Princess of Prussia—Queen Victoria will soon be another grandmother.

—A man out west has heard of two hearts that beat a swun, and he wants to know what a swun is.

—Grace Church, New York, pays a salary of ten thousand per annum, and can't find anybody to fill its pulpit.

—A Philadelphian thinks of learning Danish and turning actor, because he is so fond of playing at Copenhagen.

—An original letter of Columbus has been discovered in Europe, and purchased for the Maine Historical Society.

—The King of Bavaria has come back to his old allegiance, and has again proposed for the hand of the princess whom he lately rejected.

—Laboulaye, the eminent French Liberal, advocate of free institution, and Professor in the Univerity of France, has had a stroke of appoplexy.

—The neighborhood of Baton Rouge, La., does more business in the way of hay raising and oak staves making than in sugar or cotton growing.

—An exchange says that although the Nicholson pavement is not being laid there, they see men tear up the street in front of the office every day.

—Marshall Bededek is made the scape goat of the popular wrath in Austria, for the humiliations of the late war, and the Emperor was never more popular.

—Florida is suffering from a surfeit of mutton and a dearth of sheep. One lady owned eleven thousand of the latter, and they were all sto'en and killed.

—Anna Dickinson wants to know precisely where General Grant stands. We can tell her. On his feet, and cat like he is likely to do so, no matter what turns up.

—We have heard of watered whiskies, watered milk and watered silks, but we think that watering lard is a dodge as novel as it is curious, and to Chicago the honor of originating it belongs.

—A New York paper wants to know if a firemen gets a cold when he allows his hose to get wet? Our gallant firemen were so cold in the head last week that their ears froze, and so did their hose.

—San Francisco is building seawall, has three hundred feet and wants more. We in the East have not much to do with sea wall, but we have about as much to do with Seward as we can well undertake.

—Motley, the handsomest author and most readable historian alive, is proposed as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. Mr. Motley has every requisite, among others that of being a thoroughbred gentleman.

—The heavy snows have stopped so many mails that half our exchanges come in (when they do come in at all) with very scanty lists of paragraphs, for cold weather and snow make the way of the paragraphist hard.

—Newburyport has just elected a member to its councils who is of Jewish persuasion, and the first of that nation who has ever been elected to office in New England. Spirits of Mather and Edwards! what backsliding is here.

—The new school board of Boston must fear disease for they have elected twelve physicians as members of their body, which does not promise much for the harmony of their meetings, for every one knows that the doctors disagree.

—A thousand feet of yard-wide goods have been discovered in the Yo Semite region. The goods were mere chasms (not cassimeres) in which there was evidently a great decline. This is the deepest chasm, to be so narrow, that is known to exist.

—The weather on the coast last week, was something to be talked of and remembered, and shuddered at, "aye when our babes are old." The mild and almost snowless winters are the "real old fashioned ones," and cold and snow ad infinitum must not hereafter be so spoken of.

—A wrestling match recently took place between two men named Partons and Gore, at Athens, N. Y. Such games were common in the ancient Athens, but we never heard of parsons indulging in the sport, and we always supposed that one of its advantages was the absence of all gore; but things have changed a little since then.

—When Mr. Seward bought St. Thomas, an article was included in the purchase for which he had not bargained, namely, Gen. Santa Anna, the hero (!) of Mexico. The old General resides at St. Thomas, is a citizen there, and if the transfer is ever made, will become an adopted citizen of the United States, a sort of thing not much looked after by Mr. Seward just now.

—A correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel wants to know how people who think dancing a "horrid sin," and theatres "churches of the devil," can quiet their consciences on the subject of gambling, lotteries, and rash speculations in which they indulge with as much gusto as any one else, at fairs and festivals, only under modified names which do not modify the deeds or the facts one iota? If any of that class of people referred to live here, perhaps they can tell.

—There is so little pressure from the water works in Philadelphia, that water sufficient to put out a small fire in an upper story is not supplied, and the Ledger wants the firemen to be supplied with buckets. Here the water comes with more force—especially is this the case in Allegheny; but would it not be an excellent plan to have the firemen furnished with buckets of rubber or some other serviceable material? Say six or eight to each engine. They could be hung along the sides of the machine, so as to always be on hand, and the hook and ladder companies could have a larger supply. This is done in many European and American cities. They do not cost very much, are never in the road, are but little or no trouble, and are often of great service, and sometimes prevent much damage being done by the plethora of water which is always consequent on the use of hose at small fires.

—When we have come into possession of Alaska, Cuba, Porto Rico and St. Thomas, and their citizens become ours by adoption (not by naturalization mind you) they will of course be entitled to votes, they will have large political influence, and party leaders should be careful to send good men down and up to the new possessions, armed with primmers, and the battle may hereafter be for the adopted citizens vote, as well as for that of the freedmen. Then, too, will not those men who have been born in our new possessions be eligible for the Presidency? Must they not be considered as native and to the manor born, and as such liable to become candidates for the abandoned honors of a Pierce or Johnson? Members of Congress should think of this before voting for annexation, for it would be a curiously unpleasant arrangement if we had a chief magistrate who could speak nothing but Danish, or a Russian Prince whose knowledge of language was confined to the sclavonic tongues. A Cuban would probably be received with better grace, for most men have a hankering after things from Havana, and such a ticket for the Presidential campaign as Partagas and Cabannas might meet with some favor, and this conjunction of names sweet in the ears of consumers of the fragrant Nicotean import, causes us to remember that when Havana is in the United States cigars will be duty less, and choicest brands will be nothing but domestic ones. We fear this last consideration may carry too much weight with it when it comes up before the assembled wisdom and statesmanship of the nation.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

5,000 ACRES OF VALUABLE Timber, Coal and Mineral Lands FOR SALE.

Situate on the line of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, in Cambria county, within a short distance of Wilmore Station; has a frontage on the Railroad of nearly three miles. Several veins of the best quality of pure rich bituminous coal underlie the whole tract. The veins rise gently from the Railroad towards the rear of the property, thus making it favorable for mining and easily drained. There is a large market for coke and it will cost but little to manufacture it. The property contains, besides the coal, several kinds of stratified IRON ORE; also LIME STONE, Fire and Potter's clays, and stone for building and for glass manufacturers. Not far beneath the bed rock of the coal formation lies a valuable bed of Iron Ore, which has been opened and worked westward. A great portion of the tract is covered with valuable timber of large growth, such as Ash, Cherry, Linn, Poplar, Oak, &c. The facilities for transporting this timber, when manufactured into lumber, either east or west, are unsurpassed. There is a water power Saw Mill on the extreme part of the tract, and at the Railroad Station there is an excellent steam Saw Mill recently erected and now cutting 10,000 to 12,000 feet per day. The demand for lumber at this point is constant, and a much larger supply could be readily sold at the mill, while there is ample room and timber on this property for several such mills.

The improvements on the property are worth from $40,000 to $50,000. There are two large mansions built for former proprietors in elegant style; a large store house, shops, &c. and about ten tenements for workmen, with stables, &c.

These lands are also well adapted to farming purposes, and under proper agricultural treatment would yield good crops, while they are specially adapted to grazing purposes.

Also, the best Hotel in the Borough of Indiana, the county seat of Indiana county, Pa. This is a large four story brick building, 27 of 54 rooms and a basement under the whole house, and is situated on the corner of Philadelphia and Clymer streets, on a lot 60 by 200 feet; and on said premises is a frame house 24 by 60 feet, used as a wood house in the lower story and hall room above; also, a frame stable 30 by 60 feet; also, a half lot, 30 by 100 feet, on which is a large frame stable, used as a livery stable. The whole property has recently been painted and repaired throughout, and is one of the best locations for a public house in Western Pa., and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

Also, a Farm of 182 acres, at half price, to a cash customer. This farm is in Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa., within two miles of Latrobe, a station on the Penna. R. R.; 150 acres of cleared land, under good fencing, the residue 32 acres in good white oak, black oak, hickory, black walnut and locust timber. This is a first rate farm, in a high state of cultivation, with good and comfortable buildings, a frame house of 8 rooms; large barn, 50 by 80 feet, and has coal and limestone under the whole tract, and is convenient to churches schools, mills &c.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SECURE PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

THE

Central Pacific Railroad

First Mortgage Thirty-Year Six Per Cent Coupon Bonds,

Principal and Interest Payable in Gold Coin,

Represent the preferred claim upon one of the most important lines of communication in the world, as it is the sole link between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, over which the immense overland travel must pass, and the

MAIN TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT.

The road is now nearly completed from Sacramento to the richest Mining Regions in the Salt Lake Basin, and is being rapidly carried forward by the largest force of laborers ever employed by any Railroad Company on this continent. The natural, legitimate, commercial business of the road surpasses all previous expectation, and is profitable beyond parallel, even among the oldest roads in existence. The Earnings and Expenses for the quarter ending October 31, were as follows, IN GOLD:

GROSS EARNINGS.	OPERATING EXPENSES.	NET EARNINGS.

This result, however, would have been far greater but for the inability of wagon teams to forward the freight and passengers from the temporary terminus in the mountains.

The United States Government and the State and cities of California have so aided and fostered the Great Enterprise, that the Company will assume very light annual interest obligations, and will have the following ample Resources at command for the construction:

Donations in Lands, Bonds, concessions, etc., (without lien.)	$12,800,000
Capital Stock, Net Earnings, etc., (no lien.)	11,000,000
Loans, (subordinate lien.)	3,000,000
U. S. Subsidy Bonds, 726 miles, (subordinate lien.)	25,517,000
First Mortgage Bonds	25,517,000
Resources, first 726 miles	$77,834,000

The FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS are in sums of $1,000 each, with semi-annual gold coupons attached, and are offered for sale, for the present, at 95 per cent. and accrued interest from July 1st, in currency, at which rate they yield nearly Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

These Bonds, authorized by the Pacific Railroad Acts of Congress, are issued only as the work progresses, and to the same extent only as the Bonds granted by the Government, and are the prior lien upon the whole valuable property furnished by the above Resources. They possess special assurances and advantages over other Corporate Securities, and are destined to rank among THE BEST INVESTMENTS IN THE WORLD, from their unusual attractions of safety, soundness and profit.

525 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

Running West from Omaha,

ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

ARE NOW COMPLETED.

This brings the line to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles farther, to Evans Pass, the highest point on the road, by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile, while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock-cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter, and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent. Bonds at the rate of $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, for which it takes a SECOND LIEN as security and receives payment to large if not to the full extent of its claims in services. These Bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road, thoroughly supplied with depots, repair shops, stations, and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which will be a source of large revenue to the company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world, and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government, and no more. Hon. E. D. Morgan and Hon. Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders, and deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the work progresses, so that they always represent an equal and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars, of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

Earnings of the Company.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic, but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue, if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent, and, as there will be no competition, it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is, in fact, a GOVERNMENT WORK, built under the supervision of Government officers, and to a large extent with Government money, and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded, and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's

First Mortgage Bonds

Are offered for the present at NINETY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, they are the cheapest security in the market, being more than 15 per cent. lower than United States Stocks. They pay

Six Per Cent in Gold,

Or OVER NINE PER CENT. upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by and by the Company's advertised Agents throughout the United States. Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the bonds will be sent free of charge by return express.

A new PAMPHLET AND MAP, showing the Progress of the Work, Resources for Construction, and Value of Bonds, may be obtained at the Company's Offices, or of its advertised agents, or will be sent free on application.

This Machine takes the clay direct from the bank, (without the preparation, by tempering, necessary for "soft mud" machines,) and tempers it thoroughly, pressing in steel moulds, brick stiff enough to be packed up eight high in the yard as made. For setting with the trowel, bearing heavy loads, and making a strong, true wall, there are no better brick known. The cost of making them by this machine is from 95 cents to $1.10 per 1,000, according to the rates of wages. This we guarantee. The machine is built entirely of iron and steel; and in the best style for strength and permanent use in working clay. Apply for circulars, giving full information, at the office,

A GREAT FAMILY CONVENIENCE.

A new and novel arrangement for having

HOT WATER BOILERS

attached to the back end of common cook stoves, so that the waste heat which goes up the stove-pipe heats all the water needed in an ordinary sized family, by passing the water directly through the boiler, which sits on the back end of the stove. This new arrangement can be put on to any No. 7, or 8 common Cooking Stove, of any manufacture. Any person having a TRIUMPH, VICTORY, BLACK OAK BEAUTY or UNION STOVE, or almost any other Cook Stove made in the Union, can have Boilers attached to their Stoves, including the Attachment, the Boiler and the Labor, put up complete at the cost of SEVEN DOLLARS, by applying to

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Gold opened at 134, declined to 133⅝, advanced to 134⅛, and closed at 134¼—market firm. The transactions by speculators are enormous, surpassing even the gold excitement of 1863 and 1864. The shipments of gold, beginning with last week, have arrested the downward tendency of gold for the present, but it is not likely that these shipments will continue for any length of time and are nearly made to balance accounts with European houses. Another cause for an advance at present may be attributed to the low quotation of Five Twenty bonds, 71¼ in London, which prevents shipments of bonds, and since prime bankers are demanding shipping rates for their sight bills. A large number of speculators predict a sudden and greater advance in the premium than has taken place within the last two years, though they can present no plausible theory. The Secretary of the Treasury has still power to sell gold, and if he will only anticipate the Janury interest, the premium would go lower during the next four weeks than it went during 1865. Prudent men carry small stocks at present.

Bonds are lower to-day, except Five Twenties 1867, which advanced to 108⅜. Some speculators had oversold, and now are forced to buy in under a very limited supply. The investment demand is light, but after January accounts are settled a demand for bonds is likely to set in that will carry prices up and maintain them during the dullness of the winter season.

The stock market is dull and inactive; Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad stock advanced 2 per cent. Fort Wayne is ½ lower, and the eastern roads are all a shade below Saturday's quotations.

Gold, 134¼; 1881's, 111⅜; 5-20s, 1862, 108⅜; 1864, 104⅛; 1865, 105; Consols, 107⅝; 10-40s, 100⅜; 7-30s, 104⅝.

—The New York Tribune, of Saturday, says: The proposition to give more elasticity to the currency by taking money on deposit by the Treasury on demand, when it is superabundant and cheap, and restoring it to circulation when interest is high and capital scarce, meets with favor, but the plan can be amended to advantage. If the Treasury intends to become a Trust Company or a Savings' Bank, it should not allow more interest than those institutions allow, if so much. It can give large sums at three per cent. To give elasticity to the currency it has only to provide that it will loan on demand to parties pledging gold-bearing bonds 85 per cent. of their par value in currency at 7 per cent. This would provide borrowers with Government collaterals a source of relief in a stringency money market, or at the time when the crops were to be moved. People would not only have their wants and currency thus obtained, as would be the case under Mr. Lynch's proposition to have "a financial balloon of $330,000,000," convertible into bonds and reconvertible into currency, as the money market made it profitable. Most of the schemes before Congress will be debated to death, and the session end, probably, with no material change made in existing loans. Contraction will cease, for the sufficient reason that the Treasury is in no condition to continue that policy.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE.

There was a remarkably light supply of Cattle this week, not over, if reaching, five hundred head, and, as a consequence, there was a much firmer feeling on the part of holders, and better prices were obtained. Prime retailing Cattle, such as our best butchers are in the habit of buying, brought from 7½ to 8c, and medium butchers cattle sold at from 6½ to 7c, and common do at 6 to 6½c.

We are credibly informed that some drovers make a practice of buying and selling cattle on Sunday whenever the opportunity offers. Now this is all wrong, and is not calculated to add much to the standing of the trade. Besides, there is no necessity whatever for it, and it gives those who engage in it an unfair advantage over those who will not violate the Christian Sabbath. The following is a pretty full report of the sales:

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 25 head of medium to extra Kentucky cattle at 6¾ to 8, and 15 commonish stock at 4 to 6¾. Bought 15 from Shepard at 6, and 5 at 4.

Myers & Needy report having retailed 61 head mixed stock at 5 to 7¾.

Hodges & Taylor sold 22 head for Gibson at 5 to 6¾.

Marks & Trauman sold 67 head at 6½ to 7¾.

L. Shamberg reports having sold 10 head at 7; bought in lots, 38 head at 6 to 7½.

N. Carr sold 21 head for Morgan & Malholm at 4½ to 6.

Greenwald & Kahn report 50 head Illinois cattle at 5 to 7.

M. Verner sold 19 head at 4 to 6½, and P. Hartman sold 18 head, the "top" of which brought 7.40.

Glass, Lafferty & Co. sold 60 head commission cattle at 4½ to 7.

Peter Kiemen reports having bought 14 head Penna cattle from Verner at 6½; 11 head work oxen from Glass, Lafferty & Co. at 6½, and 12 head from Hazlewood & Blackstock at 6¾.

Missesinger reports having sold 16 head Beaver Co. (Pa.) cattle at 5½ to 7¾.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The supply was unusually light this week, and with an average demand, the market was much firmer than for several weeks past, and holders experienced no difficulty in obtaining a pretty sharp advance. As will be seen by reference to the report of sales, prime fat Sheep sold at $4@4.50 per head; medium and common grades sold from $3 down to 90c per head.

Adam Eckert reports having wholesaled head Sheep and Lambs at $1,80 per head.

Thomas Bingham reports having retailed 170 head Mercer county Sheep at an average of $3 per head.

J. & W. Young sold 144 head to Eckert & Hoffman at $1,75 per head; 49 head "scalawags" to Keighter at 90c per head; 10 head of extra, averaging 128 lbs, at $4 50.

Jacob Emmell reports having retailed 140 head at $3 to $4,25 per head; and wholesaled 77 head to Hines at 4c per pound.

James Shaw reports having retailed 100 head Lawrence county Sheep at $1,10 to $4,00 per head.

HOGS.

The market has been firm and fairly active during the past week, and prices have still further advanced, and we now quote in a retail way at 7¼@8¼c per pound, gross, for fair to prime heavy averages.

Lothchilds & Byers report having retailed 120 head at 7½@8¼c.

Emerick & Co. report 300 head at 7¼@8c.

Glass, Lafferty & Co. wholesaled 30 head to Emerick & Co. at 7⅛c.

New York Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Receipts—Beeves, 6,234 head; Sheep and Lambs, 27,785 head; Hogs, 22,557 head. There is a moderate supply of holiday cattle with a brisk demand, and brought very high prices, some selling at $21. Lower grades in large supply and light demand, and ½c lower; there was about 2,500 head on sale; extra, $20; prime, $18,00@19,00; first quality, $16@18,50; fair to good, $14,00@15,25; ordinary, $12,50@13 50; inferior, $11,00@12,00. The market for Sheep and Lambs is without material change with a good brisk demand and firm; common dull and heavy; about 2,500 head on sale; extra lots, 7c; prime, 6@6½c; and inferior to good, 5@5¾c. Swine closed heavy; there were 107 car loads on sale and the demand moderate; 8@8¾c for heavy prime corn-fed, 7½@7¾ for fair to good, and 7¼@7⅜ for common and rough.

Philadelphia Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, December 16.—Beef Cattle in fair demand, and ½c higher; sales of 2,000 head at $9,00@10,00 for extra Pennsylvania and Western Steers; $7,00@7,50 for fair to good, and $5,00@6,00 for common. Sheep in fair demand and better prices; 5,000 head at $4,50@6,00 gross weight. Hogs unchanged; 4,000 head at $10,00@10,50 nett.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Dry Goods market remains quiet and prices are without variable change. The American Print Works at Fall River, destroyed by fire, was the third largest mill in the country and its destruction must have a sensible effect on the present market.

Chicago Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, December 16.—Live Hogs 25@30c lower at $5,25@6,75 for common to choice. Beef Cattle dull and common to good 30@50c lower; upper grades neglected and nominal.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, December 16, 1867.

We can report no material improvement in the general markets, and there are no important features worthy of special notice. The arrivals of Flour, Grain and many other articles are considerably restricted in consequence of railroad transportation being somewhat impeded by the recent snow storms, but stocks are, nevertheless, sufficiently large to meet the present requirements of trade.

GRAIN—There is a fair demand for Winter Wheat, but Spring is very dull; we continue to quote the former at $2,50@2,55 for Red, and $2,60@2,65 for White. PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—There are no new characteristics in the crude market worthy of special notice. Dullness and complete stagnation continue to be the order of the day, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The advices from the east continue unfavorable, and until there is a reaction there, we cannot reasonably look for any improvement here; and while the advices from Europe continue gloomy, there is not likely to be any improvement in the eastern markets. There was not a single sale reported to-day, and in the absence of which, we continue to quote spot oil, in bulk cars, at 7c. Some days ago it was thought by some of our "knowing" operators that there would certainly be a reaction this month, and while such an event is yet possible, it is hardly probable, and those who have been operating, with this end in view, are likely to be disappointed.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues exceedingly dull and weak, and while there is but little change in prices, the tendency is still downward. We have but a single sale to record, 3000 bbls, running from January to June, commencing with 24½c for January, and advancing one half cent per gallon each subsequent month. It was said that the best offer for December to-day was 24½c, which, compared with last week, is a decline of from one half to one cent per gallon. There seems to be no demand for spot oil, and there is not much inquiry for December.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding steadily at this point with—as near as we could make out, the marks being obscured by ice—four feet in the channel. The weather continues cold and cloudy, and the Monongahela is putting out considerable floating ice. The Allegheny river is completely frozen over.

The Glasgow succeeded in working her way up from Rochester; she left there on Sunday night. Her officers report that Brunot is still obstructed with coal barges, and that she had to be worked through with the assistance of a line.

Private advices received yesterday report that the Leclaire No. 2 sunk on Sunday near Brandenburg, Kentucky, and is supposed to be a total loss. She is insured in this city for $10,000. She was owned by Capt. J. G. Saint and others, of this city, and had loaded at Cincinnati, we believe, for Nashville. No further particulars.

An Upper Mississippi paper remarks: "The present autumn and winter, so far, much resembles that of 1845. It continued dry all through December, but on the first day of January snow fell to considerable depth, and we had weeks of good sleighing. The winter before that the Mississippi did not close at all."

The Mississippi river is four inches lower at Quincy, Illinois, than has ever been known before.

The steamship City of Paris recently made the quickest passage yet, across the Atlantic Ocean, dropping anchor at quarantine, New York, at 4:15 p. m., November 29th—just eight days and four minutes from Queenstown, Ireland. November 28th she scored 354 miles in twenty-four hours—an average of 15 1-6 miles an hour.

The New Orleans Crescent, of a recent date says: Our landing was honored yesterday by the arrival of the splendid Wauanita Captain Shuman, from Cincinnati. We have visited many steamers, but can truly state that we have never seen such a combination of neatness and durability as can be found on this craft. Every department is so admirably arranged that a master hand must have been called into requisition in displaying such admirable taste. The Wauanita is now loading for Pittsburgh, and being of light draft, will go through without reshipping. [Capt. Tom must have been "swelling up" the Crescent chap.]

NEW ROUTE FOR COTTON.—The New Orleans Times has the following:

The steamer Jno Kilgour left yesterday afternoon for St. Louis, and a portion of her cargo consisted of one hundred bales of cotton. This cotton is shipped to Cairo, thence by the Blue line to New York at $6 per bale. The stipulation is that it shall be landed at its point of destination in ten days.

The same paper has the following: The numerous friends of James F. Pendergrast will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred on Thursday, December 5th. Mr. Pendergrast was for many years engaged in the capacity of discharging clerk on the levee, and had won the confidence of all who engaged him, and his loss will be deeply felt by many friends on account of his trustworthiness as a clerk. His remains were followed to the tomb on Friday by the members of Hope Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a large number of friends. Mr. Pendergrast was a native of Kentucky, and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

ST. LOUIS, December 13.—The cause of the sudden and rapid decline here, and for many miles above, was a gorge in the ice in the Mississippi at Fort Madison, Iowa. The river at Keokuk fell three feet from Sunday evening to Monday morning. Boats coming down the Missouri are having lamentable difficulties to contend with. One strikes an obstruction, and comes along leaking; another doubles to escape and another will require to do the same. The decline continues here. The Ida Stockdale and Huntsville leave to-morrow for New Orleans. Only one boat is advertised to leave to-day, the packet Belle of Memphis. Only 25 inches of water are reported between Quincy and Lagrande last evening.

The Louisville Courier, of Friday, says: Yesterday the price of Pittsburgh coal declined at retail to $10 per load of 25 bushels, but the advices from Pittsburgh being adverse to an immediate rise, holders put prices up again in the evening. The cost of the Cannelton and Hawesville coal delivered to retailers will be between $9 and $10 per load of 25 bushels.

The St. Louis Dispatch says: The boats engaged in the New Orleans are having a rather hard time. The expenses for a trip average $7,500, and on the present stage at which their receipts on leaving cannot exceed $3000, and in many instances are considerably less. With good luck they may manage to pick up a thousand or fifteen hundred dollars at Cairo, which leaves a balance of $3000 for the up trip, to come out even. It is seldom they can get that amount up stream. Heavy losses have been made within the past two weeks, and the prospects for the future are even worse.

We extract the following items from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Saturday:

The Fire King, formerly called the Allena May, was sold on Thursday, by H. S. Saroni, Esq., to Jacob Fricker, Jr., for $3,000. Mr. Fricker is the present member of the City Council from the 3d ward. It is his intention to take out the petroleum apparatus which has recently been used to generate steam, and substitute the ordinary coal furnaces. When this change is completed, she will make a trip to Portsmouth.

The J. N. McCullough has abandoned the Louisville trade to the America. The latter will continue regularly from this out, leaving here every other day. The McCullough awaits water to enter her regular trade above.

The Leclaire No. 2, Capt. J. G. Saint, departed for Clarksville, on the Cumberland river last evening. She was drawing three feet, and had a barge, also drawing three feet. Her pilots are Thomas Allen and Thomas Kinsey. Should the water be favorable, the Leclaire will extend her trip to Nashville, as she had considerable light freight on board for that point.

The stern-wheel steamer J. S. McCune, recently destroyed by fire, was formerly the Brilliant. She was built at Brownsville, Pennsylvania, July, 1862. Length on deck one hundred and fifty-seven feet, beam thirty-four feet, depth four and a half. She had two boilers and sixteen inch cylinders. She was built for Messrs. A. G. Mason, Wm. Cook and Joshua Meehen, and originally cost $21,000. She was subsequently bought by the Government, made into a "tin-clad," and was sold at auction, at Cairo, to Messrs. Espy & Duffer.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you: she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. Would join in sending our love and respects to you.

CONSUMPTION.

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day or night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs of symptoms elicited in this way are almost sure to demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every disease part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption, or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which causes, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by helping the secreting or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing materials of a proper character, this must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and disease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in its proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1864, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and could gradually feel myself getting stronger and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider my self well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for six months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my father took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased in the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved and my chest, where it was sunk en away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM, Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself for a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some 23 years of age was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to DR. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.

And further to do and receive what soever our said Court shall then and there of and concerning them in this behalf consider. And have you then and there the names of those by whom you shall make known to them and this writ.
